

Small Business Lending Fair

Meet With Lenders - Speed Dating Style

February 18 - Baltimore

Meet Face to Face With Business Lenders

This program will connect small businesses with several community and national banks. The bank representatives will meet with established small business owners in a "speed dating" format to create introductions and build relationships to help small businesses learn more about accessing capital. There will also be representatives from state and federal agencies.

Small businesses are Maryland's economic engine. They are the nation's largest source of private employment and a major source of business innovation. Ensuring the availability of financing to foster small business growth is in the best interest of Maryland's economy.
